WALL STREET FAVORS HOOVER'S PROPOSALS

Plan of Maintaining Volume of Credit to Germany

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(P)—Prominent Wall Street bankers today were generally indined to indorse the proposals of President Hoover to the London conference in its principal objectives.

Some perplexity was expressed as long were generally in accord with the street is a greement among leading W. H. Murray tightened with the special policy of the proposal of the special policy of the proposal of conclusion that that is scarcely the popular view.

Wall Street generally does not look for any spectacular panacea for the central European ills from the London conference. It feels, rather, that about the best that can be hoped for at this time is a working plan which will permit Germany to carry on until confidence of both the German people and of foreign capital is restored. Important bankers hold that if Germany will make strenuous efforts to put her finances in order over the next few months, it may then be feasible to consider a substantial long-term loan to Germany, to replace some of her burdensome short-term credits.

It is pointed out that the United States already holds about half of Germany's short-term obligations, estimated at around $1,200.000,000. and that a large portion of the remainder is held in London. New Orleans Reaches Cash Basis Status

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 21.

The most economical truck you can buy

CHEVROLET TRANSPORTATION

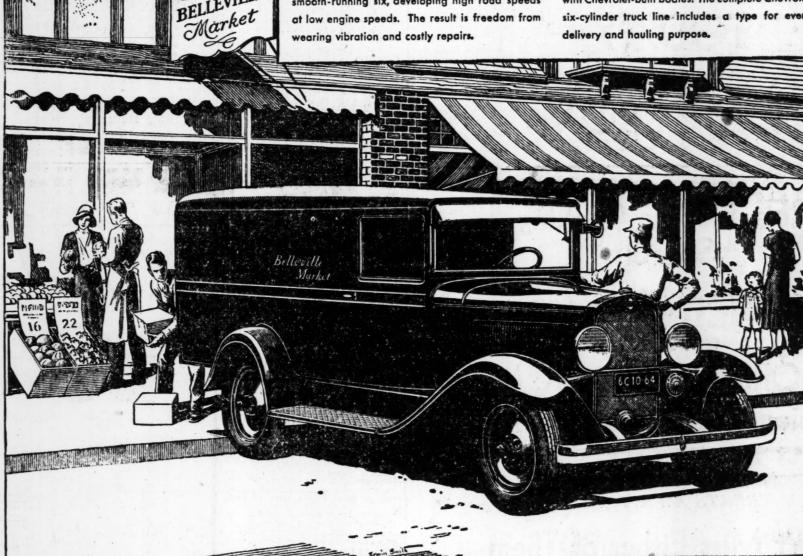

It's an accepted fact, in many truck-using fields, that the Chevrolet Six is the truck to buy for lowest transportation cost. Consider the case of the six-cylinder Chevrolet half-ton panel truck, illustrated below. This big, fine-looking unit sells for as little as $555*, complete with Chevrolet-built body. And the records of large fleet owners show that, ton for ton, and mile for mile, no other truck is as economical as the sixcylinder Chevrolet.

The Chevrolet engine has been so designed that 20 miles to the gallon is not uncommon for a Chevrolet delivery unit. Also, the engine is a smooth-running six, developing high road speeds at low engine speeds. The result is freedom from wearing vibration and costly repairs

The chassis is exceptionally well-built-every important part being made extra-large and extrastrong. Such construction helps to keep the Chevrolet truck continuously on the job, and to prolong its life. And this rugged construction, plus unusually long frame and springs, leads to another important truck economy-maximum load capacity. Chevrolet has been able to build extremely large bodies that handle big loads safely and dependably, and reduce the number of trips per job.

No matter what you haul, or where you haul it, you can take advantage of Chevrolet's matchless economy. In addition to nine half-ton models, Chevrolet offers a wide variety of other models with Chevrolet-built bodies. The complete Chevrolet six-cylinder truck line includes a type for every delivery and hauling purpose.

Features of Chevrolet half-ton models: a six-cylinder 50 horsepower engine, 25% more powerful than any other engine in a truck so low-priced; heavy, rugged channel steel frame 152% inches long; six foot load space; four long semi-elliptic springs; big weatherproof 4-wheel brakes; handsome Chevrolet-built bodies of unusually large capacity. Chevrolet also offers 11/2 ton trucks on 131 inch wheelbase, and 157 inch wheelbase. All with Chevrolet-built cabs and bodies. Low delivered prices and easy G. M. A. C. terms.

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(P)—
Discovery of a "lost tribe" living in underground villages in the remote interior of the southern Sahara desert was announced here Monday by Dr. Arthur Torrance. Los Angeles physician, author and explorer.

Dr. Torrance, who returned recently from 18,000 miles of expedition through central and northern Africa, contends man evolved from a lower type of human animal, but his origin was in its present form. Man's origin, he said, may be in the southern part of the Sahara rather than in central Asia.

Dr. Torrance said he first located the habitat of the "lost tribe" in 1923 but was unable to penetrate to the native center because of hostile desert nomads.

He said the nomads are self-appointed guardians of the 10,000 natives and have repulsed all efforts of white men to learn the secrets of the understound village dwellers. A few natives have escaped the unrelaxing vigi-

SOVIET RUSSIA GIVES

MOSCOW. July 21.—(P)—Soviet Russia today gave the glad hand to George Bernard Shaw, who arrived here from England with Mrs. Shaw and Lord and Lady Astor for a va-

Shaw left the train at the Belorusski station, where a crowd of workers and peasants cheered him, and went immediately to visit the tomb of Nikolai Lenin, in Red square.

He was greeted at the station by representatives of soviet literary and educational agencies and he seemed to be in excellent health in spite of the fact that he will be 75 years old next fact that he will be 75 years old next Saturday.

One of the first thrills he got after One of the first thrills ne got after his arrival was being stuck for five minutes in the elevator shaft of the Hotel Metropole, when the elevator became wedged four feet below the level of the main floor. Shaw and Lady Astor had taken the elevator while other members of the party walked.

The operator, apparently overcome with the importance of his passengers, let the lift sink too far below the lobby floor, where it jammed.

Two American newspaper correspondents assisted in lifting the playwright and the lady parliamentarian out through a narrow aperture.

Shaw waved his soft hat at the hundreds who were waiting for him on his arrival at the railway station and, in spite of the pleas of Lady Astor, refused to see newspapermen.

As he crossed the crowded platform, closely guarded by red soldiers, he was introduced to a young Englishman who has lived here for two years. Having been informed that his compatriot liked Russia and intended to stay there, Shaw said:

"Good! If I were as young as you, I think I should like to stay here too."

Think I should like to stay here too."

The party expects to spend nine days in Russia. They will leave for Leningrad at the end of the week and return here before going home.

In the throne hall of the palace of the former czars, now the meeting place of soviet committees, Shaw ascended the rostrum which occupies the spot where the throne dais used to stand and tested the acoustics by shouting loudly.

Looking upon the body of Lenin during his visit to the tomb. Shaw called attention to the red leader's hands, declaring that their fine lines marked them as those of "a born aristocrat."

The Russian newspapers today devoted a great amount of space to Shaw's visit, although his works are little known to the Russian masses in

He called attention to the need for a permanent organization, stating that spasmodic efforts would not accomplish the results desired.

A report of the legislative commit-tee was made by C. M. Huguley, chairman, which was augmented by remarks of J. F. Ball, vice chairman, Mr. Ball called attention to the drastic measures recently passed in Texas, Oklahoma and other states which, he said, virtually put the truck operators out of business and should emphasize the need for an organization of truck operators in this state.

Man Pleads Guilty And Then Is Freed

Richard Morgan, former soldier, has the distinction of being one of the few persons who have pleaded guilty to a charge and yet have walked from the court a free man. But it happened to him Tuesday.

Morgan entered a plea of guilty before Judge E. Marvin Underwood is deal court and the state of the stat before Judge E. Lava Once Flowed Over Georgia, Finding of Volcanic Rock Proves Positive proof that volcanoes spouted in Georgia at about the time the brontosaurus crawled along sogy shores and pterodactyls wheeled overhead like today's turkey-buzzards, lies on the desk of Dr. S. W. McCallie, state geologist, as the climax of a long search for evidence of this state's Pompeian episode.

For years geologists had suspected that Georgia's earlier days were full of earthquakes and lava-flow, but it remained for the huge teeth of a husky highway department earth-eater to confirm the theory definitely, Dr. McCallie revealed Tuesday.

Geological surveys in previous years revealed a large number of "trap-dykes" throughout the state, and from these the scientists decided that volcanoes must have existed here, but the lava-flow had been washed away the four periods when weather conditions were different from those of the recent droutt.

Mrs. Vera Howard Hall, nationally famous food authority, praises many fine qualities of COLO-NIAL BREAD, especially for sandwiches. The new TWISTED Bread makes the finest sandwiches you ever saw. The slices fit smoothly together—the silken white bread is beautiful with any filler.

But the secret of a good sandwich is its FRESH keeping qualities. The special TWISTING method as Colonial Bakers do it produces a finer texture, due to the spirated cells being reshaped from the ordinary globular form of other loaves and this insures keeping fresh longer, too.

If you want the best sandwiches, be sure to ask for COLONIAL TWISTED BREAD at your, grocer's.

The Hughes organization stated it is not forthcoming.

The Hughes organization stated some time back that Hecht, under exclusive contract to write for them, did a bit of literary work for another

At the time "The Prodigal"—Tibbett's latest release—was made, the studio had been hit with a panic about singing pictures. The One Who Treats Privates as Inferior Clay Is the Lieutenant, Not the General -By Robert Quillen-

Europeans find never-ending enjoyment in ridiculing American men ecause of their submission to women. That the American woman is placed on a pedestal is a fact so obvious hat nobody attempts to deny it. But the explanations attempted by critics and apologists usually are so labored and unreasonable that they make a mystery of a very simple matter. The usual explanation, on this side of the Atlantic, is that women were highly valued in pioneer days for the same reason that diamonds are expensive today-because of their scarcity, and that the practice of worshiping women was taught to each succeeding generation, along with standards of fair play and decency, until it became a fixed detail of American character. The latest explanation from across the Atlantic is that America's climate weakens the masculinity of males and thus causes them to give trembling obedience to their feminine rulers. The weakness of this theory is the difficulty of explaining why the climate doesn't affect the adies, also. The true explanation does the American male much more credit. There are henpecked Americans, of course, as there are henpecked males in all lands, but the normal American male old enough to shave defers to women for the same reason that he doesn't strike a cripple or hit a man who is down or steal candy from a baby.

He is trying to be a gentleman. And his conception of a true gentle-man includes a chivalrous regard for the weak. There was a huge prize fighter-of some renown whose diminutive wife occasionally lost her temper and beat him up. Asked by a sympathetic friend why he submitted to such indignities, he answered gravely:

Why, it doesn't hurt me any and it seems to do her a lot of good. That is the attitude of the typical American male. If he was aware of weakness or suspected that his present role was orced upon him, he would at once rebel and use his superior strength

o prove himself the boss. But it is the consciousness of strength that makes him willing to appear weak. Being good to his women folk gives him the same comforting assurance of virtue that others experience when they endure with long-suffering patience the unreasonable impositions of children and the childish old. There is a general belief in America that the decency of a civilization may be judged by its treatment of women. It is that belief and the desire to be decent that makes the typical American a slave to his women. His service to them feeds his pride, though a similar servitude

4. That something happened at the "rough party" at "George's" that caused the woman to run from the place and, in a frantic and dishevelled condition, appealed to Charles B. Committee's Action on Successor to Edwards Undetermined.

the first congressional district are evidently waiting until the meeting of the congressional executive committee Friday before making formal announcement of entry in the race.

This was indicated here Tuesday when Judge J. Saxton Daniel, of Claxton, judge of the Atlantic circuit, and a formidable prospective candidate, announced that he would await the report of the committee meeting before giving out any definite statement. Judge A. B. Lovett. Savannah, is chairman of the committee.

At this time it is practically certain, however, that he will enter the lists.

The same decision is being followed by Charles Beach Edwards, son of the late congressman. Mr. Edwards is expected to announce after the committee meets.

It is problematical just what decision the committee may make. It has several plans it could adopt under the law. It could name a primary election for choice. It could employ a convention in the district for the purpose, and has also the authority to select a candidate itself. Such a candidate would appear in the election called by the governor as the democratic candidate. There is no indications that the republicans will produce a candidate, but it is apparent duce a candidate, but it is apparent the party leaders will select one of the candidates to whom they will

It seems certain the primary if called will be within 30 days from Friday. The general election for congressman would then follow within a short time, it is believed probably 10 days after that.

SHARKEY FACES MICKEY WALKER IN RING TONIGHT

Loser Will Drop From Heavyweight Picture. Gob Favored.

By Dixon Stewart,

United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, July 21.—If form cans anything at all, Jack Sharkey, e big Boston heavyweight, should not require more than seven rounds at the most to put an end to Mickey Walker in their 15-round brawl for the "American championship" at Eb-betts field, Brooklyn, tomorrow night.

Running true to torm, however, never has appealed to Sharkey. He may go in there tomorrow night and, using his great weight advantage and his wide margin in reach and height, simply overwhelm Walker from the start.

On the other hand, the erratic sailor man may have one of his "off" nights and do everything wrong. If he does, the squat, underslung Walker, whose left hook is one of the best in the business, may outgame him for the decision. There is little likelihood of a Walker knockout, for Sharkey even on his bad nights is too much of a craftsman to be stopped by an overstuffed middleweight.

PROVED ABILITY.

PROVED ABILITY.

PROVED ABILITY.

Sharkey proved his ability as a boxer in his bouts with Stribling and Loughran. The man has forgotten more boxing than Walker ever will know, and is not likely to take many, if any, clean punches on the whiskers. Thus it would seem Walker's lone chance depends entirely on Sharkey's mental attitude. This chance, according to Sharkey, doesn't exist, the Boston man declaring he never was in better condition, both physically and mentally.

when Sharkey thinks he can't lose he doesn't; just let him believe he's got a cinch and he probably is the best fighter in the world. Sharkey, at least, has had enough sense not to rate Walker too lightly. He knows Mickey can hit if he lands, but for the life of him cannot figure out how Walker can expect to crack him in a vulnerable spot.

Walker, bolstered by the magic tongue of Jack Kearns, is supremely confident of victory. He plans to fight from a crouch and depends on his left hook to remove all resem-blance of fight from Sharkey.

SAYS MICKEY WALKER. "When I get him 'dogging it' as he id against Dempsey," says Walker, thell will pop loose. I'll show the man more gloves than he ever thought existed and none of them will be the nature of love taps. I may little but when I hit 'em with the le ley don't fall I ask to see what's holding 'em up.'

This characteristically modest statement is typical of the little Irishman. Certainly no man in the ring has a better fighting heart than he, and it is a sure bet that Mickey will be wading forward just so long as those grand piano, legs of his are able to hold him upright.

Viewing the bout from afar, it will Viewing the bout from afar, it will appear an obvious mismatch, but going beneath the surface you will find that Sharkey never has proved himself a good big man. Walker has proved himself a great little man. The bout, mismatch or not, will put an end to the heavyweight title aspirations of the loser. Let Sharkey lose to the pint-sized Walker and Jack might just as well retire to his Chestnut Hills estate and take up soultry farming. Let Walker lose and he'll be just where he started a year "Il be just where he started a year two ago a good middleweight and

That was yesterday out at the airport. Miss Jenny Cramer, as lovely a girl as you'll see, was out there waiting for her plane. An awfully nice, naive sort of person—this Miss Cramer who stopped in Atlanta for breakfast. She's hurrying back to school at Southern California.

There's just one fault to find with the very pretty Miss Cramer. A nice girl like her should have nothing to do with mathematics. And she LOVES them. Of all things, loving mathematics! She is going to major in mathematics in getting her mas-

Lieutenant W. L. Stribling continues to be interesting.

It was just yesterday morning that he came whirling up a muddy road on that motorcycle thing, a very fine motorcycle they say, with a brother-pilot on behind him. There was a gust of rain riding in on the road with them.

"Gosh," said the brother-pilot, as he dismounted from the machine, "75 miles an hour on that wet road and me without a parachute. Those rain drops were hitting my face like buckshot."

"I was hustling to keep you from getting wet," said Lieutenant Stribling.

They wheeled him out a plane. Two others were up.

TheSteam-Up.

The Kearns-Hayes-Walker combination has steamed Jack Sharkey up to a point where he will either flatten Mickey Walker in a few rounds or else overtry so badly that his timing will blow apart.

This was the general idea back of the steam-up—to get the temperamental Sharkey wrought up to such a pitch that he couldn't punch with any accuracy. And great violence, lacking accuracy, is never effective. Unless something like this happens, Sharkey should win with a knockout or by a wide margin. And even work for the winning tally.

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 21.—
(P)—Seven of the nation's first ten women tennis players and the unranked Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, who, in other years, topped them all, today gained the quarter-finals in the Essex County Club's brilliant tourney.

Rankings, however, will probably mean but little during the remaining brackets, for none of the seven appears to have any chance of halting the former Helen Wills' sweep to her fourth victory in this annual competition.

To gain the third last round, Mrs. Moody had to overcome two sturdy and hard-driving rivals, but at no time in either match did her competition approach the pressing stage. Starting a bracket behind most of the survivors of the first day's play, she defeated Mrs. Arylamme, New York, 6-1, 6-3. She caught up with the fourth round winners by overcoming Charlotte Miller, New York, 6-2, 6-2. These wins moved her into position for an encounter with Virginia Hilleary, Philadelphia, ranked fourth. with a semi-final bracket going to the

As Mrs. Moody progressed through each round, the competition sharpened her play.

Marjorie Morrill, of Dedham, last year's winner, shared the day's honors with Mrs. Moody by defeating Dorothy Andrus, last week's winner at Longwood, 6-3, 13-11.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper, of Oakland, Cal., who was topranked for her 1930 play, entered the third last bracket with a 6-3, 6-2 win over Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere, of Southboro, Mary Greef, Kansas City, qualified for a meeting tomorrow with Mrs. Harper by disposing of Cecilia Riegel, Philadelphia, in 6-3, 6-4 fashion, Sarah Palfrey, Brookline, shared the same quarter-finals bracket with Miss Morrill by advancing over Mrs. J. Shohn Van Rya, Philadelphia, 6-2, S-10, S-6, Miss Hilleary drew her dubious Wednesday assignment against Mrs. Moody by nosing Mianne Palfrey out of a 6-3, 4-6, 6-3 match, and, in the struggle for the bottom quarter-finals bracket, Dorothy Weisel, Sacramento, Cal., defeated Edith Sigourney, Boston, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2, and Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Ana, downed Baroness Levi, New York, in another overtime contest, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Londos tonight successfully defended what he calls his world's heavyweight wrestling championship by throwing Kola Kwariani, Russian challenger, in 58 minutes, with what the experts described as an "unconscious hold." Londos weighed 200 pounds and Kwariani 215. The gate was $8,400.

What the Market Did.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(P)—The stock market felt its way cautiously today, and with a little help from bullish professionals advanced moderately along all major fronts.

Volume expanded to 1,134,000 shares compared with yesterday's fiveyear low record. Rails came to the rescue in the afternoon when prices had begun to sag from an earlier rise of 1 to 3 points. Although final quotations were generally under the top, there was an average advance of about a point and a half.

Second grade carrier bonds were firmer, but Germans, with the exception of the two principal governments, were spotty. Wheat, corn and sugar improved; cotton, on the other hand, was heavy.

President Hoover's proposal that in-improved: cotton, on the other hand, was heavy.

President Hoover's proposal that international bankers maintain present credits to Germany and that that republic continue to exercise close conpublic continue to exercise close control over foreign exchanges was favorably received in banking quarters here which noted particularly that no further financial assistance to the reich was mentioned. Many prominent bankers have contended that Germany did not need more credit, and have looked with disfavor on any plan for an immediate large loan, part of which would be floated in this country.

Meanwhile, there is a growing belief that once foreign matters are straight-ened out American business will be ready to move slowly out of the depression.

Dow, Jones & Co. estimates that United States Steel's operations rose to 33 per cent this week against 31 per cent a week ago, while "Ameriper cent a week ago, while "Ameri-

per cent a week ago, while American Metal Market" said there had been no change.

The stock market continued to follow United States Steel, whose directors meet next week for dividend action. There is difference of opinion as to whether the present rate will be maintained. The shares to-day made an extreme gain of 2 points, closing 11-2 higher.

Bethlehem Steel, American Can, Case, corn products, Youngstown Sheet, American and Foreign Power, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Linion Pacific and Southern Pacific closed 1 to 2 higher. Net advances in the oils were fractional, but the group was active. Motors were firm. Small southwest receipts, bullish Canadian weather and a better export demand sent wheat up 1-2 to 15-8 net. Corn's gains were nominal. Net lossing cotton ranged from $1.20 to ains were nominal. Net loss-otton ranged from $1.20 to Foreign exchange rates moved ir-

NEW YORK. July 21.—Cotton opened slightly lower from last night's close and ruled quiet and very siteaty during the early part of the day, without prepentations of favorable news from Loudoperation and creasing reports of the boll weevils' presence from various parts of the bell. In the late afternoon, however, the local trade, who had bought earlier, started to realize and found no fresh buying orders, which carried the market down some 30 points from the top, Liverpool futures are due to morrow: October 5.08; January 5.19.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Continuing to advance on a moderate increase in trading volume the stock market reflects sustained influence of broader constructive factors working for recovery.

The report of a moderate increase in estimated operations in steel industry tended to indicate that the severe slump in this basic line has at least been checked and seasonal influence will soon witness reversal in trend. Further encouragement was gleaned from railroad reports indicating some roads were able to hold June losses in net operating revenues to negligible proportions.

DOBBS & CO.

NEW YORK, July 21.—President Hoover's proposal to the London conference for maintenance of existing German credits as a solution of Germany's most pressing financial problems, is likely to carry much weight with the representatives of the seven nations in attendance, but it fails to throw any definite light on the probable outcome of this momentous gathering. There is enough uncertainty in the foreign situation and pending domestic developments, in their opinions, to warrant adherence to a policy of conservatism in undertaking new stock market commitments although the action of pivotal issues reflects the absence of concern regarding events of the immediate future.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The market had become oversold add having the advantage of some good support would doubtless have had a recovery today aside from the foreign news of a slightly more encouraging nature. Nothing definite has been arrived at in London, but various newspaper reports as well as the new Hoover statement indicate that the situation will probably be worked out on lines which will throw most of the responsibility on Germany for accomplishing her own salvation. The various central banks seem unwilling to advance long term credits until German credit standing is stronger though are willing to indefinitely extend existing short term credits.

Highlights Wall Street BY CHARLES W. STORM,

Editor, the News Service of Wall Street. (Copyright, 1931, for The Constitution by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)
NEW YORK, July 21,—The Stock market continued quiet with a firm undertone today notwithstanding the continued absence of any definite for-

Cign news.

Business was not as light as during the previous session, with slightly more than a million shares changing hands. While the German situation continued to be the main subject of discussion, even that came in for less conversation than in recent stock market sessions.

conversation than in recent stock market sessions.

The firmness of the general list found reflection in advances of from I to 2 points in those shares which are usually the medium of speculation among the professional traders. The strength was a pleasant surprise in that there was no improvement in the overnight news or that subsequently received during the day. The betterment in prices in the absence of favorable developments was accepted as another indication that liquidation had been completed and that selling has dried up temporarily.

Railroad share: were from 1 to 2 points higher although there was nothing in the data being given before the interstate commerce commission that would be calculated to stimulate buying of the transportation shares.

Steel common advanced more than a point and rumors were current that operations would show an increase of about 2 per cent. Improvement covering the professional traders realizing that in spite of the absence of favorable news from abroad there is no disposition to sell stocks in quantity.

So much unfavorable comment has been made in recent weeks about the statements of earnings to be published for the second quarier that the reports made public for that period so far have furnished quite a pleasant surprise in that they have not made the predicted bad showing in most instances.

predicted bad showing in most instances.

The surprise expressed with the receipt of the National Biscuit statement found reflection in a better demand for the stock at an advance of 2 points. The General Railway Signal reported $1.64 earned on the stock in the second quarter against 47 cents in the first three months of this year. Hershey Chocolate also reported earnings for the first six months of this year in excess of those for the corresponding period of last year.

The statement of the General Electric for the second quarter of this year is expected tomorrow and estimates are that it will show 37 cents on the stock against 38 cents for the first three months, or a total of 75 cents for the six months, which would be slightly less than dividend requirements for the first half of the year. It was also reported that the Chrysler Motor statement for the first half of this year would cover the dividend requirements.

Estimates that the Loew's will earn the first three months of the year. CHRYSLER POOL THROUGH.

CHRYSLER Motor stock continued fairly active and fign despite reports that the big pool formed in the stock over a year ago had been dissolved and the participants had received their pro rata shares of the stock which the pool had been forced to acquire as a result of its unsuccessful market operations.

In this connection it is reported that there is hittle prospect of the usual heavy selling which nearly always follows dissolution of an unsuccessful pool owing to the changed outlook for the company by reason of the Plymouth development. This division of the Chrysler Motor is declared to a $5,000 cars behind in deliveries.

The action to be taken by the United States Steel Corporation at the dividend meeting scheduled for next Tuesday continued to be discussed from every augle. One rumor had it that the dividend would be reduced to $5 a share, another that the directors stood seven to five in favor of the regular payment, and still another that the directors proposed cutting the payment but that the administration at Washington was endeavoring to induce the Steel Corporation management to pay the regular dividend because of the psychological influence it would have on sentiment.

To be concise, these stories showed that the Street has no idea as to what action the directors will take, although it does expect that the earnings statement for the second quarter will make a very poor showing.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(4)—The curb market made further upward progress today, to the accompaniment of a moderate acceleration of trading.

of a moderate acceleration of trading.

Although the day's turnover of 240,000 shares was slim, in view of what the market is equipped to handle, it represented a gain of 50 per cent over yesterday's volume, which set a low record for recent years.

Oils again reflected fresh bullish sponsorship. The weekly crude production figures, showing a substantial reduction, despite a gain in east duction figures, showing a substantial reduction, despite a gain in east Texas, explained in part the recent strength in this group. The new Socony-Vacuum shares rose I point to a new high since their recent admission to trading. Gulf advanced 2 1-2 and Indiana and Cities Service were firm.

AIRMEN IN NEBRASKA MAY AVOID OMAHA

LINCOLN, Neb., July 21.—(P)—
Nine airplanes and an autogiro, composing the national air tour, rested here tonight while Ray Collins, manager of the flight, was considering the next stopping point. The planes arrived today from Kansas City.

Collins said he learned no definite arrangements had been made at Omaha to accommodate the tour, and that unless he received assurances of adequate arrangements the fliers would remain here until Thursday, when they will leave for St. Joseph, Mo.

Harry Russell, Dearborn, Mich., leading in points, was the first of the group to reach Lincoln. Jimmy Smart, Pine Bluff, Ark., was second, and Lowell Bayles, Springfield, Mass., was third. LINCOLN, Neb., July 21.—(4) 31 MacMarr St STEEL—The American metal market, in its weekly Iron and Steel Review, says: "Volume of steel business, shows no change in the week, ingot production being maintained at approximately 32 per cent. Chances are this will prove to be the low rate of the year, but that is by no means certain, as mills have almost no backlogs and are maintaining their operations with difficulty, making strenous efforts to obtain all orders possible. The usual summer experience has been for orders to pick up slightly after the middle of July and to show a little farther gain in August, but at present there are no signs of any picking up and there is a great of the strength of the strength of the present there are no signs of any picking up and there is a very substantial improvement will begin to show itself later than usual, by reason of buyers all down the line is a very substantial improvement will begin early in September is still predicted.

TARZAN AT THE EARTH'S CORE

As the flying monster swooped downward, Tarzan loosed a bolt which drove true to its mark, burying its head in the breast of the pterodactyl. Its hiss became a scream of anger as in rapid succession three more arrows sank into the creature's flesh. This was a warmer reception that the terri-fying dragon had expected. It rose suddenly upward and skimmed above their heads as though to abandon the attack.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Without another word Tar-gash turned and started down toward the valley from which they had ascended. The only bond that had united these two hereditary enemies had gone and Tar-gash was going his way back to the stamping ground of his tribe. For a moment Thoar watched him, and then, with a shrug of his shoulders, he turned his face toward Zoram. And off across the granite peaks the great creature bore their friend, Tarzan of the Apes.

"And so you led a singleton." The reproach, pity and loathing sometimes heard in the voice of an opponent at the bridge table, when this lead is made and results happily for the leader, is hard to describe and hard indeed to understand. I confess that sometimes when accused of this crime, to which I admit my guilt, I feel to which I admit my guilt, I feel somewhat as though I were confessing a great fondness for opium or a taste for second-story work. The for second-story work. The k' lead gained its unpopularity the name which dates back to t days. This term is, of course, sed on a false premise, so the consist with certain players, that a singleton lead is unworthy of a game of the high standard of Bridge, should be dispelled once and for all. The fact that its use at times may not be consistent with good Bridge is another matter entirely.

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 22, 1931.

To lead at random a singleton in an attempt to gain an extra trick is not good Bridge. The weight of responsibility which rests upon leader in deciding upon an Opening or subsequent lead of a singleton is equally as great as that involved in deciding upon any other Opening or subsequen

Before deciding upon the lead of a singleton, leader should consider Before deciding upon the lead of a singleton, leader should consider carefully, not only the advantages and disadvantages of such lead, but what interpretation partner may place upon it if led. If singleton held is in some suit other than one bid by partner, its lead, when logical lead would be a card either of own or partners declared suit, makes its reading as a probable singleton almost obligatory. Also, the conventional manner of Also, the conventional manner of number showing — fourth best from four or more, top card from three or less, to show the number of cards of suit led held by leader—is an additional side to the control of the cards of suit led held by leader—is an additional side to the cards of suit led held by leader—is an additional side to the cards of t suit led held by leader—is an additional aid to interpretative skill in card reading. Frequently the denomination of the card led will mark it positively as a singleton, unless Declarer by false-carding, i. e., by playing an unnecessarily high card to trick, makes such identification more trick, makes such identification more less doubtful.

Less d suit, is not a matter of generalization, but of sound judgment in each in-dividual instance, taking into con-sideration the bidding, the score, and the cards and particular type of hand

This hand, taken from actual play, may prove interesting and instructive in illustrating the use of the singleton lead with types of hands which arise in everyday play. It forcibly shows that this lead, when combined with alertness of mind and proper card reading by partner, will frequely bring about successful results.

In the first example, the symmet of suit division is observable in the two singletons, one each held by West opportunity for effective use of the singleton lead is much greater than it would be otherwise.

South finally secured the contract South finally secured the contract at four spades after North had made a Forcing Takeout on the basis of his 3 1-2 honor-tricks. A Forcing Takeout requires both partners to keep the bidding open until a game contract is reached. West opened his singleton diamond, a lead which would have been of little moment had it not been for the wise use which his partner made of his right to make the second lead. East won the first trick with the East won the first trick with the knave of diamonds and returned the S of cluba; a plainly indicated singleton, which Declarer won in Dummy and led a small spade. East jumped up with the Ace and led a small diamond, which West trumped and returned a club, which East trumped, thus saving the game.

This defense, quite simple when xplained, depended for its success pon East's recognition not only of he 6 of diamonds as a singleton but its relation as a singleton but its relation as a singleton to re-entry possibilities in West's hand to give East the desired ruff in clubs. Many players in East's position would not grasp this possibility or stop to think it out, but would blindly return either a low diamond for West to trump, return the Ace and then a low third round, that West might be able over-trump.
A moment's thought on East's part

A moment's thought on East's part should show the folly of this defense. With the high cards in sight, South's spade holding to conform to the re-quirements for an Opening bid, should enable him to shut out West, not only once but twice and still retain a sufficient number of high trumps to enable him to drop opponent's remaining trumps and go game. Hence, East's return of his singleton club, instead of a diamond, was good play.

Today's Pointer.

Today's Pointer.

When partner has not made a bid, a Double of not more than one notrump nor more than two in a suit is a Takeout Double.

Likewise it is a Takeout Double when Opening Hand bids a suit (but not notrump) and doubles on next round after a pass by partner.

It is also a Double for a Takeout: When Doubler, having failed to get a response from his partner (who get a response from his partner (who was released from bidding by an in-tervening suit or notrump bid) doubles again on next round. (Copyright, 1931, for The Constitution.)
